Restarting Time

by InsanityxXxOtaku

Summary: When the war against Zeref started with his demons, mages of every guild found themselves outnumbered, leading them to death. So, after thousands of deaths, Zeref gave Lucy an offer to restart everything, with certain conditions. So when she answers positively, what obstacles will she face again? And will a certain encounter with four Fairy Tail members change everything?

Lucy stared horrified at the battlefield in front of her, everything was just ... out of control. Mages of all guilds were screaming and shouting casting their magic at the demons they were fighting, but their attempt of fighting back was in vain. 'Where's Natsu?' Lucy questioned in her mind before taking out her keys chanting "Gate of the Lion, Gate of the Goat, Open thy! Leo, Capricorn!" Loki and Capricorn appeared. Loki had a shocked and horrified expression at the scene in front of them while Capricorn was ... trying to stay calm "Can you please fight against them?" Loki had this urge to disobey Lucy's request but nodded and leaped into the battle, to a lone demon "Grant me thy power of the Light! Regulus Impact!" Capricorn also nodded and engaged into a battle fighting against another demon. Lucy gritted her teeth in worry 'Where is everyone?' She ran into the battlefield taking out her Fleuve d'Ãtoiles. Loki cried out as he saw Lucy ran into the battlefield "Lucy!"

Lucy ignored his cry as worry overcame it for her nakama and she looked everywhere when a demon suddenly started chasing her. Lucy looked shocked at the demon before cracking her whip at the demon's abdomen, which did no fatal damage. "Star Dress: Taurus!" Her clothing formed into a bra and sleeves with a cow pattern and pants that leaved her right leg entirely revealed wearing boots and a pouch attaching to her belt. She let out a war cry and punched the demon in the stomach making it fly back somewhere else.

That, was when a shadow behind her enlarged on her tiny body. Lucy noticed this and looked back, to see a Wyyvern behind. Scales were missing from it's body and disgusting liquid was coming out of it, it's teeth were large and sharp, and it's tail swayed knocking out other demons and mages in the proccess. The Wyyvern let out a loud roar glaring at Lucy with it's red slits. Lucy was too shocked and frightened to move. The Wyyvern growled before grabbing her roughly as wings sprouted from it's upper back as it flew deeper into the battlefield. Lucy blinked before shrieking in horror and punching it's hands. It's grip tightened warning her that if she continued, the Wyyvern would squish her to death. Lucy just slumped into it's hands and the Wyyvern continued to fly ... somewhere. 'Why is this Wyyvern even holding me?'

After flying for 7 minutes, the Wyyvern flew into a cave, which Lucy, at this point, was totally freaking out 'This is the enemies territory! Ar-?!' Someone broke her thought "You are Lucy Heartfillia?" The Wyyvern released it's grip on her as she slumped down on the ground looking up into the eyes, of Zeref's. Lucy's eyes widened, this was Zeref, the dark mage and the cause of this war. "Are you Lucy Heartfillia?" Zeref repeated. Lucy slowly nodded her head mutely. Zeref's lips tilted slightly into a smile "You're friends are dead, Fairy Tail is gone" He stated. It took Lucy a minute to process the information 'Gone? As in dead?' Zeref, who read her mind, replied to her question "As in dead Lucy Heartfillia." Lucy's eyes grew wider before she stood up and shouted angrily at him "Don't you dare lie to me Zeref!" "Why would I lie about the death of my brother and his guild that my lover created?"

Lucy's eyes widened as tears started to fall before she glared angrily at him. Golden light engulfed her as Zeref blocked his eyes from seeing the light. When the light died down, there was Lucy, in a complete different outfit and aura. Her outfit changed to complete armor, a cape with all the constellations and a crown, white boots with a golden outing, and she was holding a large sword about tall as half as her height and was made of pure celestial metal. Her aura, was heavenly and innocent, but it was deadly.

She screamed in rage and lunged towards Zeref swinging her sword towards him. Zeref eye's widened with surprise as am black barrier protected him 'Is she the one?' He questioned as Lucy kept on slashing her sword at the barrier which was slowly starting to break.

Tiny hope filled Zeref as he noticed that she was the one the promised one he was informed about 400 years ago when he was branded as a monster and an unstoppable immortal. He smiled slightly before bringing his hand up as dark magic circled Lucy "Lucy Heartfillia, will you allow me to speak?"

Lucy was blind with rage and sadness, she didn't know how to react. Her soul was trapped in a dark place not knowing how to react to this information, 'Dead? How are they dead?' She kept on swinging her sword with all her might. The dark magic surrounding her burst into small particles before turning golden and disappearing into the thin air.

Zeref frowned at this, she was wild with rage. Was it because of what he said earlier? "Lucy Heartfillia, would you like another chance to see your family again?" At this, Lucy froze from her actions before glaring at Zeref "How?" She demanded. "I will give you the ability to go to the past, just like how the Eclipse Gate was used, but this time, you will start all over again. This will not be in the middle of your journey of Fairy Tail, this will be the very beginning of the journey" Zeref explained "But there will be no second Lucy of that timeline, you will be replacing her." Lucy looked shock at Zeref "Really?" Her voice laced with hope 'I can see my family again? Can I save them then?' Zeref, who read her mind, expression's darkened "But there will be a condition in going back to the future."

"Which is?" "You cannot see Fairy Tail or meet any members from Fairy Tail" Zeref said "In any way, directly, you cannot see Fairy Tail again." Her hope started to dim out with anger replacing it "Then why let me go to the past again?!" Zeref scowled before spreading his arms out as the cave tumbled down with his dark magic showing the battlefield "This, is what Fairy Tail have went through, and this is the outcome. So you will do this, unless you do not want to save your family and friends again." "F-fine" Lucy murmured "What are the conditions?" Zeref walked towards her "You cannot directly show yourself to Fairy Tail, you cannot let them know you are Lucy Heartfillia, you may put yourself under a false profile and interact with only 10 members of Fairy Tail, you cannot state or imply in any way that you have came from the future and is preventing from all of this happening."

Lucy nodded mutely with her bangs covering her eyes. Zeref continued shoving a potion, mask, dark clothing, and a cloak to her "Lucy Heartfillia, drink this potion and you will gain abilities that can surpass Wizard Saints and the Loyal Council members. Put on this mask, clothing, and cloak always or whenever you meet one of the 10 members of Fairy Tail. It will block any magic like mind reading, data search, and will block your scent." Lucy grabbed the clothing. Zeref sighed at her glum attitude before saying "Look Heartfillia, you can destroy all things or humans that are a threat to Fairy Tail." Lucy looked up "Why are you even giving me this opportunity?" Zeref hesitated looked away "I want, my brother's love, to find her way again. To save me from being a monster and from killing all millions of humans," He said quietly. Lucy looked shocked at Zeref before smiling weakly "I, I will do my best in trying to save the past while not ...m-meeting Fairy Tail along the way" Lucy slightly stuttered on the last part. His eye had a warm glint on it as if saying Good luck to her. Lucy couldn't believe this was actually Zeref, the most wanted and feared mage of Fiore.

Zeref raised his hand and brought it to Lucy's heart. Black magic slowly swirled it's way from Lucy's feet to Lucy's head. When, a large wicked grin replaced the sorrow looking face of Zeref's "Have fun." Lucy's eyes widened "What?" Zeref laughed clutching his stomach "You didn't get it? This isn't a joke, but this will just be one cruel journey for yourself!" He laughed wiping his eyes "Not meeting Fairy Tail? You'll never be able to keep up with the conditions! That way your whole purpose of saving Fairy Tail is just one pointless journey!" Lucy froze before trying to jump of the spot she was in which she failed to because the dark magic froze her in her spot. "Bastard!" She spat at his face glaring at him "You'll pay for this!" Zeref smiled leaning in on her face "Funny, because after I use this magic my body will disappear." Before Lucy could curse at him any longer, the dark magic swirled all around her body "Good luck Lucy Heartfillia" He whispered.

Lucy banged against the dark magic. That warm glint he had in his eyes, weren't there, it was replaced with a sadistic and cruel look. Then, after minutes, the dark magic dispersed. In front of her, surrounding her, a solitude forest, away from civilization. Lucy raged pure fury showing on her face "ZEREF!" She screamed before punching the ground as a large crater appeared. Everything, would be a pure torture starting from this second. All because, of that man, who killed her family and gave her a choice to go back in time. Lucy kept on screaming in rage punching the ground continuously for minutes before stopping, slumping against the ground sobbing "Why?" Everything was quiet in the forest, except her sobs were heard.

   2. Abilities and Possibilities

Disclaimer: I Do Not Own Fairy Tail

Lucy stared at the night sky which had thousands of stars littering it. Everything was just ... unbelievable. Fairy Tail was gone, Zeref made her go back in time with hard conditions, and everything felt ... colorless. Life had different varieties of colors, yellow, blue, green, red, black, but now, life was just colorless, like it had no meaning anymore, and that was exactly what Lucy was feeling, lifeless. A golden glow suddenly appeared, with a frantic Loki staring in shock at Lucy before her surroundings "Lucy?! Why is everything so peaceful?! Is the war finally over?! Where's Fairy Tail?!" He bomb-boarded her with questions. A small weak smile graced on her feature "I made a mistake Loki, now I feel like I'm crushed with the stress I'm under in." Loki grew more panicked "What stress? And what do you mean you made a mistake?!"

A small laughed bubbled up her throat as she rolled tearing up "Loki, Zeref tricked me into the past, now I'm stuck here" She raised her hands reaching to the night sky "And all I got is the stars and things Zeref gave me." Loki looked at Lucy as if she lost her mind, he shook her "LUCY! What happened?!"

The smile disappeared from her face as she started explaining everything, from the start to the present time she was living in. After she finished explaining, Loki looked at her with disbelief, Fairy Tail was gone? His master was back in time? Everything was just ... "Unbelievable" Loki murmured in shock as he stared at Lucy. When he realized what why he came to Lucy he recollected himself and with a grim look, he said "I'm sorry Lucy, but, the Spirit King, sent you a thought projection to you." Before Lucy could speak, he set a lacrima on the ground as a normal sized version of the Spirit King appear.

"Old friend, do not worry for all I have to say is nothing miserable but instead, fate" The Spirit King started "During your talk, with Zeref, you somehow activated my Star Dress old friend. Long ago in the ages when you weren't born, when celestial mages was not lost magic, a prophecy was spread within the mage world. A prophecy so promising, that even the dark mage Zeref, still believed in it today," Lucy gave Loki a confused look which he looked away at.

"The prophecy was started by, an unknown person, but it was stated that: A certain celestial mage, with the ability to open the ruler of all celestial spirits, with the ability to use any Star Dress at will also mine's, would be able, to save the whole Fiore, the whole Earthland, from the person who caused all trouble and misfortune, Zeref himself" Lucy gasped at the statement "And it seems, that my most favored celestial mage is the prophecy child" The Spirit King chuckled "Because you are the prophecy child, I will transfer Heavenly Magic from me to you old friend, I hope it aids you well in your journey old friend." Then the thought projection disappeared. Lucy blinked processing the information before bursting out laughing "Hah! Like I'm the prophecy child! I'm just one weak and pathetic celestial mage with responsibilities that will just ruin everything!"

She clutched her stomach before collapsing down in the grass rolling around "Hah! That's so stupid!" Loki stared in shock at Lucy 'Did the shock change her this much?' He gritted his teeth before storming towards Lucy "Lucy! You are not weak! You are not pathetic!" He yelled in anger "Why are you always underestimating yourself?!" At this point he shook her back and forth "Why Lucy?!" Lucy stopped laughing and rolling, she gazed at Loki's eyes dully before she quietly murmured to Loki "I'm sorry, I'm just ... it's just too much for me." Loki stared sadly at Lucy "Please don't let that ever happen again Lucy." Lucy nodded mutely before standing up "I-I'm sorry Loki, it's just that's everyone's gone, I'm back in time, I'm a prophecy child. It's way too much."

Loki gave her a small smile "We will always be with you Lucy, forever and always." Lucy smiled at this " 'Til death right?" Loki laughed nodding "Yeah" He replied before dramatically crying over Lucy "Princess! You will be the sunshine of my world! You will never die out with your beauty!" Lucy chuckled at Loki's cry when sudden information of Heavenly Magic and all data of how to use it and spells got transferred inside her head. Lucy tipped her head, all of this seemed natural, as if she regained something back. She looked at her hands and stared as if everything about her changed "Thanks Loki"

She murmured softly 'He's always by my side, no matter what, changing my opinion of myself, thank you Loki'

Loki stared at her "What do you mean Lucy?" Lucy laughed shaking her head "Nothing Loki! I gained Heavenly Magic!" Loki smiled "That's great Princess! Heavenly Magic is even rarer than celestial magic and to know that my lovely master knows that! Splendid!" He began complimenting her.

Lucy smiled at the complimenns waving it off and sat down on her temporary camp, a tree stump. Though despite the compliments, she didn't felt happy, satisfied, positive. She felt like she was missing something. Or someone. And she was. Lucy shook off the feeling and picked up the potion Zeref gave her. It was black, and looked undrinkable, but who knew the results? Lucy unscrewed the cap and gulped it down. It tasted bitter, it gave her this feeling like she was engulfed with darkness but, the taste gave her this urge drink every single drop. And that was what she did.

When she finished the entire bottle, she suddenly felt her lungs burn and she began into a coughing fit collapsing on her knees. Loki froze seeing her before immediately crouching down "Lucy! What happened?!" But she couldn't answer him, she was engulfed with pain and feelings of bitterness, she was on fire with emotions she couldn't describe.

Lucy suddenly began vomiting gray stuff. Loki looked in shock at her before hitting her in the back to help her "Lucy!" Lucy continued vomiting and coughing for moments. After a few minutes she stopped vomiting and coughed a little "L-Leo?" She felt so ... new. She felt her magical and physical power swelling and going up all of a sudden. Then she felt a sharp pain on her back and face while a little wet feeling around that area. Lucy brought up her hand and touched her cheeks groaning in pain "Argh," When she looked back at her hand, there was spots of ink on it.

"Lucy? Is that you?" Loki whispered. Lucy nodded confused still panting from the pain "Why Leo?" She didn't know why she was calling Loki, Leo, it felt like she it was just appropriate for her to call him that. Loki shook his head disappearing from Earthland before returning with a mirror in his hands "Look for yourself," Lucy grabbed the mirror before staring at it in shock and dropping it immediately in shock 'Who?'

In that mirror, she saw a girl, with a tattoo on her right side of her face and her neck leading down to her abdomen. The tattoo on her face, was black and looked like roots of trees, leading down to her neck and then changing styles down on her arms. On both of her arms, there was a pure bluish white wings on her upper arms and then there was a weird trail of language Lucy didn't know but somehow understood and then there was black tattoo resembling stitches covering only some of the other tattoos.

Lucy gasped staggering backwards before falling down slightly dazed "Who?" Loki flinched as he saw the languages and her tattoos "Lucy, did you do something?" Lucy slowly nodded "Y-yeah, I drank the potion Zeref gave me." Loki blinked before his expression darkened "Lucy, you gained the power ... of the demons. Devil Slaying Magic." Lucy collapsed on the ground groaning "Care to explain?" Loki nodded "Lucy, devil slaying is magic where it can't be taught, but transferred. All devil slaying magic's origin came from Zeref himself because he is branded as the devil. Devil Slaying magic can be transferred from special magic of transfer or by birth. Because of this method, this is why Devil Slaying magic is now lost magic.

Lucy chuckled weakly "Woah, two lost magic transferred to me within 1 hour? That's fantastic" Loki sighed "Not really but, Lucy, all those tattoos are going to appear when you activate devil's wrath. After a day or two, the tattoos are going to disappear" Loki said. Lucy smiled at him before standing up dusting off her outfit "Leo, I'll make a reputation for myself, then I'll spread a rumor that I'll be protecting Fairy Tail or something" Lucy told him. Loki looked at her unsure "Why?" "Because, I finally became stronger, I finally can repay Fairy Tail and everything they did for me just by doing this, that way nothing bad would ever happen to them" Lucy replied proud of her thinkinh.

Loki frowned shaking his head "No" He said "Think about it Lucy, Fairy Tail will never grow the potential in being the strongest guild in Fiore, you can't stop everything from happening. When things are prevented, other things can happen because of that, if there's a cause, there's always an effect" Loki sighed You can't just stop everything anyways." Lucy covered her face with her hands "Fuck me." Loki froze as she cursed before his gaze hardened at her "Lucy, the Devil Slaying magic will change your personality quite a bit so please ... so please stay the same" He pleaded.

Lucy blinked before turning away "I-I'll try" She said quietly before stretching her muscles "What do I do now? All of my possibilities of saving Fairy Tail is just going down the drain." Loki stayed quiet, before piping up "Go to Fairy Tail." Lucy shook her head "I can't meet more that 10 people of Fairy Tail." Loki's eyes widened "Unbelievable, Zeref knew this alll along didn't he?" He muttered. Lucy sighed "I guess, maybe I'll gain a reputation for myself." Loki frowned "Why?"

"Maybe no then, maybe I'll just destroy dark guilds and become more stronger," Loki sighed shaking his head "You're already strong Lucy" He muttered under his breath before saying out loud "I guess, Lucy, do you want me to go to Fairy Tail?" Lucy blinked "Why?" She asked confused. "I can update you on things and Zeref didn't say that I, celestial spirits, couldn't meet Fairy Tail." Lucy's face turned from gloomy to ecstatic, she jumped for joy and hugged Loki "Oh my Mavis Leo! You're so smart!" She squealed "Now I can know how my nakama are doing!"

Loki smiled patting her back "That's good isn't it?" He asked softly. Lucy nodded happily. "What will you be doing while I'm in Fairy Tail though?" Loki asked. Lucy released Loki from her hug and tapped her chin "Destroy dark guilds." Loki hesitated "Lucy, don't strain yourself okay?" He said giving her a smile "We'll all be going through this together okay?" Lucy nodded before giving him a smile "Okay." "Take care of yourself and ... and be fine" Loki told her "Tomorrow will be when we start this plan." Lucy nodded "I know, I'll be fine and take care of myself." Loki took one last look at her before disappearing to go the Celestial World "Take care Princess."

Lucy nodded as she smiled "Take care Loki" She whispered to him as he disappeared. When he was gone, Lucy's smile died as she looked down at her hands 'I'm not fine, I can't care of myself, I can't do anything' Lucy thought glumly 'But now I'm in the past, I need to change things, or else I'm just useless' Lucy thought before adjusting herself to the tree stump and slowly fell asleep 'I need to embrace this chance of possibilities to change things' With that last thought, she was sleeping.

    3. The Reveal of Loki

Disclaimer: I Do Not Own Fairy Tail

Lucy looked up at the sky as she gripper her backpack harder. It was morning when Loki appeared and chatted to her plans for today and then he left, to Fairy Tail. 'I wish I was just nothing' Lucy thought staring out to the stars before walking down the road 'I need to find my first dark guild.' Lucy was wearing her cloak and her mask was placed on her face, it felt weird but, it was alright.

It has black stars on it as a design, simple to say. "Gate of the Minor Nicholas, Open thy! Nichola!" The small dog appeared trembling "P-Pun~" Lucy smiled as she trudged forward "Hey Plue, wasn't it a long time since I saw you?" Plue nodded following her. "Yeah, it was about 1 year and 6 months since I saw you huh?" Lucy said "Because of the war."

Plue nodded again "P-Pun." "I wish, I was nothing Plue. I was I'm just a ghost, able to look over all I love and care without conditions that I can break" "P-Pu-Pun!" Lucy sighed "Sorry Plue, I'm getting negative lately. Everything is just getting to my head and just ... killing me from the inside" "Pun!" Plue replied confidently. Lucy smiled at him "Thanks Plue, I really need some confidence and motivation," She walked faster "Really Plue, thanks" Plue struggled to keep up with her "P-Pun?" "There's a town right in front of me" Lucy pointed ahead "Maybe a dark guild is there or something."

Plue nodded and they chatted a while before arriving at the town "Karty Town?" Lucy mused walking inside the town "Sounds familiar," She continued walking down the street when she realized that she didn't find not a single soul down walking anywhere. Plue, who also seemed to noticed this, shivered in fear "P-P-Pu-Pun!" That was when she heard a loud -Bang! Some where down the street. On instincts, Lucy ran towards the noise to find Bandits raiding a carriage and one man holding another guy getting grabbed by the collar, he had a frightened look on his face as he clawed the man's hands "P-please! Spare me! I'll give you anything you want!" The man holding him shook his head "Anything huh?"

The other guy shook his head frantically "Y-y-yes!" The other man grinned "Die then!" He took out a magic gun and shot him with fire bullets, the other guy screamed and shrieked in pain as he moved inhumanely before his eyes rolled out of sight and blood streamed down his mouth. The bandit smirked dropping the man on the ground "All done?" He asked out to his other fellow bandits. Lucy froze seeing the death take place, a memory appeared inside her mind. The deaths, of mages because of the war, her family's deaths. Lucy gripped her hands glaring at the bandits "Why?" Her voice was deadly quiet. The bandit frowned as he heard her speak "Why? Who are you?"

Lucy ignored his second question and repeated again "Why? Why did you kill him?" The bandit blinked before laughing "You mean that pest?!" He wiped his tears grinning "He was in my way! Besides, I need things to live" He replied nonchalantly like killing people was a daily thing for him.

Lucy stalked towards him "Why?" The bandit stopped laughing and frowned again "Who are you anyways?" That was when Lucy leaped forward with her fist stretched outwards with a black glow surrounding it "WHY DO YOU ALL KILL WITH NO REASON!" She screamed punching him in the face as he flew backwards into some other bandits. Another bandit shrieked "Holy shit! This is a insane woman!" He cried out. The other bandit ran towards her with swords "Take that you bi-!" Lucy kicked his lower leg as he started to fall before she chopped his pressure point knocking him out.

Then she advanced on to other bandits one by one, fueled by fury. She was fighting them all with just her bare strength. Finally, all but one was left, his lips trembled as he shivered seeing her slowly walking towards him "Answer me, why do people kill?" "B-B-Because i-it de-depends!" Lucy stepped on him "Tell me then," He started to stutter the answer "Properly" She added. The bandit leader gulped "A-as I said, everyone has their own reasons." She coldly glared at him "Tell me why you killed him." He nodded frantically "I killed him because I needed things! I'm poor and my family is in debt begging for money!" He yelled "I killed that damn bastard because he made my daughter a slave!"

Lucy was not affected by this story by sadness or pity, but instead anger "You're lying to me because you're that desperate by your own life?" She asked, he flinched realizing she saw through his lie "I'm not stupid." She crouched as his eye's widened as he trembled and sweat dripped down his forehead "PLEASE SPARE M-!" She raised her hand when he fainted from fear.

Lucy gazed at him before standing up dusting her clothes "How easy" She muttered when she realized what happened. Her eyes widened, 'I-I easily overcame bandits' Lucy thought 'When I usually will face extreme difficulties' Lucy stared at the bandit's bodies "Plue, I'm stronger." Plue nodded "Pun!" Lucy smiled "Isn't that great?" Plue nodded again "Well, Plue. You can go back now, there might be dangers" Plue nodded as he disappeared "Say goodbye to Aquarius for me!" Lucy called out when Plue finally totally disappeared as he nodded "Pun!"

Lucy smiled at his disappearing figure when loud cheers and doors slamming open interrupted her "THEY'RE GONE!" "CELEBRATE OUR FREEDOM!" "THANK YOU!" More cheers echoed through the street. A crowd of people swarmed around her cheering and thanking her. That continued until a loud shout interrupted them "MAKE WAY!" The crowd stopped and made a small pathway for the shout. There, a small old man walked through there, he walked until he reached Lucy. He stared up at her on her face "Who are you?"

Lucy hesitated before answering "Does not matter yet" She replied firmly. "What have you done for my town to thank you?" "I have defeated bandits raiding your town" The old man's eyes widened before he smiled softly "Thank you, now we are 25 percent free from all danger." Lucy frowned under her mask "Why?" "A great powerful dark guild has taken control of my town and we are now waiting for rescue and freedom" The man hesitated before saying "Can you free my town? My people?" Lucy looked away "I cannot promise but I can try." The old man burst into tears "T-thank you! Thank you so much!"

Lucy smiled under her mask when some other villagers comforted him "Hey lady, the dark guild is over in the forest!" A random person informed her. Lucy nodded before walking to the forest, with a task in mind

With Loki

Loki ran his fingers through his hair as he stared at the large wooden doors in front of him. This was this Fairy Tail, not the Fairy Tail he knew before and cherished but a different one. Not too different right? Loki pushed open the doors revealing a brawl and a normal Fairy Tail setting. Loki smiled as he saw everyone, healthy and well. He walked through the guild when all of a sudden, everything was quiet. Cana grinned "What's with the getup Loki?" She asked "Got a special girl to run?" Loki smiled weakly "Hey Cana."

Master Makarov frowned as he saw bags under Loki's eyes "Loki, my child, is something wrong?" 'Everything, my master is struggling with this harsh reality while I have to face the dead again' Loki swallowed the lump in his throat and replied "Master, I'm a celestial spirit and have found my master." Gasps shot through the guild before shrieks and protests of realization came from his guild mate's mouth's "EH!" "NO WAY!" "ARE YOU GETTING THREATENED LOKI?!" "WHAT THE HELL'S A CELATIE?!" "You go Loki! Serve your master well with that damn body of yours!" The last one was obviously from Cana.

"QUIET!" Master Makarov yelled shutting everyone up "Loki, what do you mean you were a celestial spirit?" Loki shook his head "I _am_ a celestial spirit Master, I have been keeping this a secret from you because ..." He trailed off before saying the truth "Because I was banished from the celestial world, the spirit king banished me because I killed my master that owned my key, because my fellow zodiac was in trouble ..." He trailed off again.

Master Makarov blinked before laughing out loudly "So that's why Bob was worried about your disappearance!" Loki stared confused at Master Makarov "What?" He shook his head in response "Nothing my child, who is this master of yours and how did you meet her?" Loki cleared his throat as he adjusted his tie "Well, my lovely master~" He rolled his tongue flirtatiously "Is beautiful, charming, kind, intelligent, marvelous, lovable, understanding," Levy furrowed her eyebrows as she stood forward "Celestial Magic? That's magic that summons spirits from the celestial world, it takes quite a lot of magic and it's slowly becoming lost magic. Who is your master Loki?"

Loki's flirtatious face slowly turned into hesitation "Um," He bit his lip before sending her a charming smile "Lovely enough to compete against the goddess of beauty in equal love~" Gray frowned as he stepped forward "Loki, who is she?" Loki panicked before sighing and replying "She will reveal herself at the right time, it is not my time to reveal her identity." "Why tell us now Loki?!" A random guild mate piped up.

"Because" Loki adjusted his shades "I have thought it would be a good thing to reveal my identity, release some stress of my shoulders for the time being." Master Makarov stared suspiciously at the spirit before walking upstairs "Feel free to ask questions to Loki," Everyone brightened up and bomb-boarded Loki with questions. Loki cried out before questions drowned him out.

Somwhere in the guild, a man threw a careless glance at Loki before grabbing a S-class request and walked downstairs, softly slamming the request on the table "Demon, sign it." Mira stared suspiciously at the man before stamping it "Good luck with the mission -" The man growled walking away not responding, with his team following after him as they noticed he was leaving on a mission.

Loki glanced out at the doors when his eyes widened in surprise "What mission did ...?" "Karty Town Loki, why?" Mira replied. Loki gulped before replying back to questions 'That's close to the town Lucy arrived at but, nothing's going to happen right?'

With Lucy

Lucy stared up at the dark guild in front of her "How obvious" She muttered, seriously, it was a dark guild with some weird designs on it, doesn't that stand out to people? Lucy sighed before getting into a battle position, with her hands raised up to the sky, she slammed it down "Heaven's Judgement!" The dark guild collapsed, leaving the mages inside confused and alarmed. When they noticed her, they ran towards her with their magic circles ready. Lucy stood still, the battle with her and a dark guild began. Would the dark guild demolishing be successful? Chances can be anything
